

I to I

A cooperative program for families with young children

Who we are

I to I is a cooperative 16 week program for families with young children (ages 1-4). We strive to become more effective parents who rear emotionally healthy children with high self-esteem. We provide parents with a place away from the pressures of home to get in touch with their children and to discuss parenting with other parents. We provide a rich and varied environment for parents and children to experience together. All members of I to I share an equal voice and an equal vote within the program and are also equally responsible in running and enhancing the program.
